Parachute fails to open

A 44 year old Toronto woman fell 2,500 feet to her death Sunday about 11:33 a.m. when her parachute failed to open about one mile east of Cameron.

Lindsay OPP said Mary Rose Ross of 19 Harper Av., Toronto, was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. R. K. Hollows, Lindsay coroner. The body is at Ross Memorial Hospital where a post mortem was conducted

Monday at 11:00 a.m.

Police said the accident happened at the Cameron Parachute Club on the farm of Arnold Perrin. They said the woman's main parachute opened only partially. When she attempted to use the reserve parachute she was too close to the ground for it to open. It was reported to be her 108th jump. Constable Wally Crowe investigated.

Veteran pilot killed in plane crash

A veteran private pilot from Oshawa, 61 year old Frank Arthur Baker, formerly of Port Perry, died in the wreckage of his Cessna 180 plane and his daughter Louise, 26, suffered multiple injuries when the plane developed engine trouble on a flight from Orillia to Oshawa Friday afternoon.

Sources close to the family reveal Mr. Baker and his daughter left Orillia about 1:00 p.m. Friday afternoon and experienced engine trouble. In the vicinity of Sunderland, the plane finally plummeted to earth in the middle of a woods on the farm of a Robert Jibb, a mile and a half south-east of Blackwater about an hour later.

An automatic emergency signal device carried by most planes is credited with saving the life of the passenger when attempts at locating the plane by helicopter failed, and a plane from Trenton arrived and traced the location of the plane by the emergency signal.

It is understood a paramedic team from Trenton parachuted to the vicinity of the downed plane and rendered first aid to the injured passenger until an ambulance arrived, and she was removed to the Toronto General Hospital.

Brechin OPP were called to the scene and coroner, Dr. Ivan Nancekivell attended. The plane was found standing on its nose with the undercarriage intact. A chain-saw and bulldozer was required to clear a path to the wrecked plane as the bush was so dense, and the plane was righted, dismantled and removed late Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Baker was a veteran pilot with some 20 years experience. His plane, a Cessna 180 four passenger plane with dual controls and two-way radio equipment worth about $20,000 appeared in good condition but with damage to the front end and some damage to the wings and tail structure.

Mr. Baker is survived by his daughter Louise of Orillia who was with him on the flight, and by another daughter Mary (Mrs. Wally McMillan) of Orillia, and by two grandchildren Greg and Michelle.

The body rested at the Armstrong Funeral Home in Oshawa for service in the chapel, Tuesday at 3:00 p.m. Louise Baker is in improved condition at the Toronto General Hospital, suffering from multiple injuries.

Brechin OPP report a "May Day" call was received by the Oshawa Airport who contacted Whitby OPP and the call was relayed to the Brechin OPP about 2:55 p.m. Friday.

Members of the family were informed Sunday that engine trouble caused the crash.

Opening game

Elmvale defeat Minden Monarchs 11 - 2

Friday evening the 1975-76 Int. C. officially got underway.

The game was attended by a good following and the Minden Monarch team put up a good two periods of hockey against their opponents from Elmvale. It is hardly realistic to be bragged about this performance but the team played two great periods of hockey, before just running out of gas in the third period.

The first period, the Monarch club were heavily penalized but came out of it trailing by just one goal.

The second period the boys put up a strong showing but Elmvale tallied three goals as the Monarch team just couldn't hang on.

Elmvale has had three practice sessions, plus two exhibition games previous to this encounter, and their conditioning just outlasted the Minden boys as the final outcome was apparent at a 11 - 2 favour of the visitors.

The two goals for Minden were scored by Craig Stamp and Floyd Henry.

The Management of the Minden Monarchs 1975-76 entry will continue to strive to bring the supporters a team that will hang in there not just for two periods of hockey, but the whole game and personnel changes will be in order until they fulfill their commitment to you - the fan!!

Bracebridge wins with 5 - 3 over Monarchs

On Sunday, October 26th Monarch hockey club iced a team of ten players to encounter the last years strong entry from Bracebridge.

the players who turned out proved a big point already this year. They are here to play and intend to play to win. You could sense the spirit and enthusiasm within this team as they started the game!

The Bracebridge fans and team soon realized that this team is not to be taken to lightly.

The new rules which will be strictly enforced, short handed the Monarch club early in the first period as Craig Stamp got the gate for the game. Instead of folding up, the remaining players skated, checked and played a super period of hockey, but went into the dressing room trailing 2 - 1.

The second period action was a superb display of how a hockey team, when short of man power can still play a solid game of positioned hockey and pace themselves so as not to run out of steam.

Misfortune struck again as forward Craig Morrison was injured with torn muscles of the shoulder and was lost for the game. By the time the buzzer sounded the score read 3 to 2 in favour of Bracebridge.

When the third period got underway and the team down to 8 players and the goaltender, you would think these guys might just give up. Not these fellows! They just played all the more aggressive and as the game was nearing completion and the score 4-3 in favour of Bracebridge the Monarchs pulled the goal tender Larry Harten for an extra attacker. It almost worked as Darrell Stamp got his shot away only to be foiled by their goalie! Bracebridge then scored into the empty net to make it 5-3 final score.

If this game is any indication of the effort that is going to be shown by this club, then the fans of this area should be in for some real good hockey.

Next game is Friday, October 31, 8:30 p.m. in Minden with Penetang being the visiting team.

Sports commentary

This column was written by Christie Blatchford the new gal sports writer for the Globe and Mail and we found it quite interesting and are publishing it for the benefit of our readers who missed it Monday morning!

They are going to clean up our hockey game, dammit, until there is nothing left.

Bobby Hull sat out Friday's World Hockey Association game, protesting what he calls growing violence in his sport. Two days ago, Tory MP James McGrath told the Royal Commission on Violence in the Communications Industry the Hockey Night in Canada is the prime offender on television. Earlier this year, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association instituted rule changes that give the aggressor in a fight an automatic game misconduct. And last season it was Toronto lawyer Bill McMurtry, telling us that hockey fostered the bad business of machismo.

Enough, guys, enough.

Hull's sitdown seems a neat top-off to a movement that began a few years ago, about the same time that various small pressure groups started telling us to get back to the land (on weekends) and get off the highways (during the week) and jog every morning.

And some of the recent changes - severe penalties for a player showing intent to injure is one of them - have been wise, designed to protect the amateur leagues, where there are kids who have not learned to handle the hate and the anger that is part of all competition. The movement, though, goes beyond all that - it attempts to deny that there is such madness in sport, it generalizes, and it does not properly distinguish between violence and toughness.

It is all part of our time, an era that breeds young men like Lanny McDonald of the Leafs, a young man on a $600,000, five-year contract, a young man who recently suffered a case of nerves because he had been criticized in the press.

Our hockey game has not changed, despite what Hull says about the growing incidence of high-sticking. It is simply that, in the numbers game of expansion, there are now more hockey players using their sticks - and the penalties for that infraction are, as they should be, getting stiffer all the time. But the roughness - the fights, the elbows, the occasional knee - has been with us since day one.

It has also always been a part of football and basketball and rugby, and it's been there because of the truth in a long-ago saying that still hits home. You gotta hate a little to be one of the great competitors.

For years, non-hockey people have failed to understand the hate, just as they find little beauty in the sound of a body hitting the boards, just as they see no magic in a man on the ice, all alone, playing with the puck. It is unreasonable to suggest that Hull, a magnificent competitor, does not understand. It is not unreasonable to suggest that after 18 years as a pro, at 36, that he may be tiring of it. It happens, even to the Hulls.

That's our game, guys. A tough combination of bravado and bravery, some phony machismo and some real meanness. It's the only game in the world we play as well as anyone else. But if we aren't careful, the people who make the decisions are going to take the guts and hardness out of hockey and they will do it because they think it is what we want. It will make dozens of Swedes - like Inge Hammarstrom, who is nicknamed Ingrid by some for his reluctance to hit - ecstatic. Big cheques with no checks.

Reduce the high-sticking, yes. Penalize the third man in a fight. But let's not try to pressure our hockey players into becoming nice athletes; good hockey does not mean clean hockey. It means good checks and good passes and good skating and even some good acting. It means trying to trip the other guy and sometimes it even means fighting. It means playing when you're hurt and hurting a little when you play.

Our country has a surplus of nice athletes who play by the rules and play clean and never stoop to try anything for an edge. And they hardly ever win.

It's Hallowe'en night

This Friday it's Hallowe'en night once again in Haliburton County. Let's have fun without vandalism.

Soon children across the country will undergo a mysterious and magical change from child to ghost, goblin or any number of other beings from the imagination in observance of a special holiday just for kids - Hallowe'en Night.

Therefore motorists, if you must drive on Hallowe'en night, the Ontario Association of Optometrists reminds you to keep a sharp eye out for trick-or-treaters walking in the dark.

Young trick-or-treaters sharing the streets with motorists and ghosts walking through unlit streets and yards, wearing masks that may obscure their vision makes for a potentially dangerous night.

Their safety depends, in part, on vision and visibility. Optometrists as members of the vision care profession urge you to help make Hallowe'en safe.

There's no business like show business

In conversation with Mr. Lou Consky who owns theatres in Haliburton, Minden, Fenelon Falls and Mattawa he tells us that it is quite a job booking shows into his various movie houses. According to him the problem seems to be booking shows that the public want to see. Some movies that should be a big hit sometimes do nothing at the box office while some second rated shows often times do very well.

It would appear to us that the film industries are just not making that many good movies anymore. They seem to be far and few between. One of the biggest money makers of the season is now playing at the Molou Theatre in Haliburton and that's JAWS. This outstanding motion picture which is having a full weeks run here ends this Thursday, October 30th and it has drawn good crowds.

This coming Friday and Saturday, October 31 and November 1st, The Godfather Part II, was scheduled to play at the Molou Theatre in Haliburton. Due to a very poor box office wherever this movie played it has been cancelled here and in its place the Movie TOMMY will be shown on these two nights.

The Godfather Part I was one of the biggest box office attractions in history but according to Mr. Consky the Part II version was a real flop.

Haliburton News Letter

There seems to be a great deal of building going on here in the County and contractors tell us that they have never been so busy. We certainly hope that this trend continues.

The Victoria-Haliburton Liberal Association are holding the Association's Annual Meeting on Wednesday, October 29th, 1975 at 7:30 p.m. in St. Mary's School Auditorium in Lindsay.

The purpose of the Meeting is to: (1) Elect officers for the 75-76 year, (2) Elect delegates to the Liberal Party in Canada's Annual Convention in Ottawa November 7/8/9, 1975, (3) To elect delegates to the Liberal Party in Ontario Leadership Convention to be held in Toronto in January 1976, and (4) such other business that may be brought before the Meeting as per our constitution.

At this time of year drivers can expect ice patches on the road, particularly in the early morning hours on and under bridges. Be on the alert for those grey patches indicating ice, states the Ontario Safety League and don't be lulled into a false sense of security by the bright fall sun. Expect the unexpected.

The doctor's offices in Haliburton and Minden will be closed today, Wednesday, October 29th, 1975. In case of emergency contact the Red Cross Hospital.

The CNIB campaign month which is October is drawing to a close, so if you have not already contributed to this most worthy cause, do so right away. And remember that your gift will work wonders.

Just a reminder here that one of the best motion pictures "That's Entertainment" will be playing at the Beaver Theatre in Minden, on Wednesday, November 5th, 1975 with one showing at 7:30 p.m. Admission is adults $2.50. This spectacular musical which is produced by M.G.M. is being sponsored by the Carnarvon United Church Choir. Plan now to treat yourself to an evening of fine musical entertainment.

Highlands TV in Minden have moved to a new location, 300 yards north of Hart Lodge on Highway 35. Their new telephone number is 489-2982.

Ghosts, witches, goblins and other Trick or Treaters are getting ready for the big haunt. The Ontario Safety League has some suggestions to help you recognize safety-conscious spooks when you see them. Look for Glowing Ghosts - That Hallowe'en spook with the eerie glow is probably a wise young ghost sporting reflective tape or material. If you're driving, you'll be sure to spot this one... even on the blackest night. One Sider - A Trick or Treater who glides up one side of the street at a time. They never criss-cross the street.

Hunting season in Haliburton County gets underway November 3rd and we can look for a large influx of hunters coming into the Highlands to try and shoot a deer.

The Royal Canadian Legion at Haliburton will soon be touring the County selling wreaths for store windows. November 11th this year will be on a Tuesday.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

In your column "Haliburton new letter" you have a plug for the movie "Jaws". I realize this movie has been, and still is a great box office attraction.

Because of a mass advertising scheme this piece of garbage called a great motion picture has everyone talking, and very likely most people will go to see it.

The only great thing about this movie, is it will make a great big pile of money for the promoters and anyone else who counts their dollars from the suckers who go to see it.

In fact, I could take my goldfish, use some scary sound effects, a lot of trick photography, saturate the public with advertising and most important use a lot of uncouth words, especially those beginning with F. Call it gums, and laugh all the way to the bank.

Please keep the Haliburton news letter for Haliburton news, and put the advertising where it belongs.

Yours truly,
Albert Cameron

The fun of batching it

Bill Smiley

ONE of my real pleasures in life is "batching it." I've just been through ten days of it, and have another stretch coming up. I look back on the one with nostalgia, and forward to the other with anticipation.

There are a lot of men who go around with a long face when their wife is going to be away for a spell, and they'll have to look after themselves. Some of them would literally starve to death if there were no restaurants. Others actually "miss" their wives constant babble.

And there are a lot of women who are convinced that their poor weaklings of husbands will be hard done by if they leave them to fend for themselves for a few days. There are also a lot of women who are convinced that their husbands are going to miss their presence dreadfully. Both convictions are erroneous, in my case.

I love my wife, but oh, you happy, carefree days of batching it. I feel the way I used to, about nine years old, when school is letting out in June.

For one thing, there's no teacher at me all the time, trying to make me behave, clean up after me, and learn something new, all at once.

This is hard work, and I'm lazy.

Nope, when I put the old battleaxe on the bus, or see the car drive off, I try to look mournful, and wave a fervent goodbye, then I give a great sigh of relief, and feel like a fellow who has just walked out the jailhouse gates.

I'm not saying that marriage is synonymous with prison, though it is a life sentence. I'm just saying that it's nice to get a weekend pass once in a while, for good behaviour.

First thing I do when the old girl disappears over the horizon is kick my shoes off, settle down in a comfortable chair with a beer and the evening papers. I read it through with quiet enjoyment, no interruptions.

Nobody relating how she changed the beds, did two washings, called the plumber. Nobody wanting to talk about decorating the spare room. Nobody telling me I had to go over the bills with her. No, just me and the paper. I read front page, editorials, columns, sports and entertainment. Normally, I never get past the front page.

Nobody saying, "Dinner's nearly ready don't open another beer which would you like canned peas or frozen spinach." I have my dinner when I jolly well feel like it. Maybe nine p.m., or ten.

And when I do, it's a gourmet spread. Unlike some of those snivelling wretches who can't boil a cup of water without spoiling the flavour, I was brought up in a large family, and was a pretty good, rough cook when I married. A far better cook than the bride, I might add, sotto voce.

And since then, I've filed off a number of the rough edges, and can turn out a good meal. Chops and sausage, bacon and eggs are child's play, along with steak. I can turn out a creditable turkey, ham, roast of beef. I can make stuffing, bake a fish.

So, when I'm alone, I don't go hungry. Oh, not that I roast a beef, or turn out a golden brown turkey. That's a bit much for one average appetite.

But I don't settle for the baked potato, fried pork chop and canned corn routine, either. That's for workaday cooks and workaday appetites and workaday marriages.

Nor am I one of those fancy-dans who fool around covering the essential blandness of their cooking with a lot of spices and sauces.

I'm more apt to turn out a nice mixed grill: bacon, a small fresh lamb chop, a sausage or two, a bit of liver, and a gram or two of kidney. If they're not on hand, I get the latter two items out of a can of cat food. It has a distinct, unique flavour.

When all is sizzling a la perfection, as we say, I carefully put the meat on a paper towel, and fry two large slices of golden-brown bread in the drippings. I top these with tomatoes and melting cheese. By this time my stomach can scarcely stand the aromas mingling.

Then I put the whole works into the cat's dish, open the refrigerator, take out a frozen chicken pie, heat it, and eat it, garnished with a sprig of cabbage. The cat and I are both happy.

By this time, it's 11.30 p.m., so I watch a late movie or two, with no one saying, "Isn't it time for bed?" I climb into bed at 3.30, read for an hour, and sleep until 7 a.m.

Every time my wife comes home and I've been batching it, she is appalled by my appearance. "Your eyes look like two burned holes in a blanket." They do, but I've enjoyed every burn.

Then the inevitable question: "Did you miss me?" Hah! Miss her my foot. I didn't miss her any more than I would my teeth, or my right arm.

The first patents issued in Canada appeared in 1791. They were granted by the Governor General in Council for processes to make potash and soap from wood ash. They issued to Angus MacDonnell, a Scottish soldier garrisoned at Quebec City and to Samuel Hopkins, a Vermonter. It is interesting to note that Hopkins also obtained the first American patents, also in 1791.

A SUMMER EFFORT FOR SNOWTIME FUNDS

The Twin Mountains Snowmobile Club of Bobcaygeon didn't wait for handouts from governments, municipalities or businessmen's associations. It went to work on its own fund-raising projects and came up with a hatfull of money for its winter trail grooming scheme.

The first dance was held in June, on a rather small scale to prove they could do it, a better one in August, with the coup de grace on October 4th when the Carlton Show Band was engaged to draw a crowd of 630 to the Bobcaygeon Arena. The club reports a profit, from this last dance alone, of $1800.00.

In addition to their successful social events, the Twin Mountains people gambled on a snowmobile and trailer raffle which netted $1400.00. The draw, for a '76 Olympique 300 and double trailer, was made at the Bobcaygeon Fall Fair on September 27th, the lucky winner being Orville Britton with a ticket purchased from George Morren, both residents of the village.

Profits from the Raffle and the Dance have enabled the club to purchase an Alpine snowmobile and a trail groomer with which they propose to maintain more than a hundred miles of trails and unused logging roads in the area. They have also leased a Snowmobile Camp for the use of their members to serve as a gathering place and kick off point for planned trips.

In the development of new trails, the club's aim is to inter-connect with the Ministry of Natural Resources trails to the east which lead to the Apsley and Coe Hill snowmobiling areas and with the Haliburton County trail system at Irondale and Gooderham.

A tip of the helmet to this enterprising club, still less than a year old, and best wishes for continued success.

SNOWERAMA '76

Mrs. Susan Brower, Co-ordinator for Whipper Watson's Snowarama, and Mr. Don Hart, representing the Ontario Society for Crippled Children were in Haliburton, October 14th, to discuss with the snowmobile clubs and Easter Seals clubs who participated in the successful run last year the prospects of coming up with an even bigger event this winter.

Easter Seals Clubs in the area are under the auspices of the Minden and Haliburton Branches of Rotary International. These were represented at the meeting by Lionel Walker of Minden, Dave Gray and Dennis Casey of Haliburton. Two snowmobile clubs, the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association and the Port Perry Snowmobile Club reported in with two spokesmen each.

The discussion was open and, I believe, fruitful. Minor problems, encountered in the preparations for last year's event, had been met and dealt with on the spot. Only a breakdown in communication, which resulted in a radio and television report of cancellation of the Haliburton run when in fact it was not cancelled, came up for serious discussion with assurances given that lines of communication will be much improved this year. Problems encountered after the event were a little more serious. These included incorrect or illegible addresses on pledge forms which resulted in a considerable loss of pledge collections, inefficient collection procedure and delayed billing, and delayed payment of authorized accounts such as food and fuel provided to Snowarama riders.

Mrs. Brower and Mr. Hart were ready with workable solutions. An improved pledge form will be used this year with space for the printing of names and addresses. Riding participants will be encouraged to collect pledges from their own sponsors and pledges not collected in this way will be billed by the participating Easter Seals Clubs. Payment of authorized accounts will be taken off the top with the net proceeds forwarded to the OSCC. The revised plan, to be in effect at all Snowarama sites in the province, should result in a more efficient and more successful operation.

The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association will again provide the 100 mile trail with starting points at Minden and Haliburton and promises to have it in much better condition for the ride. The Port Perry Club representatives were optimistic that 100 or more riders can be expected from the Port Perry region. Other snowmobile clubs are being contacted and invited to participate.

All signs point to another truly magnificent snowmobiler effort for the benefit of Ontario's Crippled Kids.

The date to remember is February 8th, 1976

Joseph Armand Bombardier - a native of Valcourt, Quebec, was a pioneer developer of off-road vehicles. He developed his first snowmobile in 1926. Out of his inventions evolved the light-weight, two passenger "Ski-doo".

Your local newspaper's prime function is to present the news . . . honestly and fully. That's all. However, sometimes the reporting goes astray, when the news is printed. Some of our friends think this is amusing. Some don't. We at your local newspaper don't laugh easily when a mistake is made in your local paper.

But in spite of our best efforts, it does happen occasionally. Even the editor had to smile when this caption appeared in his newspaper under the picture of a fallen tree:

*The tree downed at this home damaged spouting and shingles . . .
it was snapped by a violent guest.*

In another newspaper, the coronation of a high school beauty queen took an unusual turn when the proofreaders overlooked this one:

Queen Margie White was escorted to her throne by co-captains Jim Black and Frank Gruff. There she was presented with roses and drowned.

Sometimes the classified ads are full of surprises, too. The young lady who ran this advertisement is still wishing that her friends would let her forget it:

Wanted: Large well-furnished room by young woman about fifteen feet square.

Then there was the time one of our nice Iowa ladies, trying to do her part to add to the Christmas spirit of her home city, found her efforts recorded thus:

Mrs. X set up a still life composition of angel figurines and greenery entitled, "Hark the Herald Angels Sin."

So, when you see one like this:

*The Rotary male quartet will sing,
"I need three every hour . . ."*

Or this:

I am now in position to hatch your eggs at five cents per egg . . .

please remember that local newspapers are regarded by readers as a friend they can't do without, and even a good friend is bound to make a mistake once in a while.

When you stop to consider that over a million inches of news are reported each week in hundreds of weekly newspapers throughout Canada, a mistake here and there doesn't sound too bad to some people. But a misspelled name of a local citizen in a news story is no laughing matter . . . if it's about you.

November 5 - 11 proclaimed Remembrance Week

The Dominion Command of the Royal Canadian Legion has declared the seven days beginning November 5 and ending November 11th, as Remembrance Week. The theme for the Poppy Campaign this year is

REMEMBER ---TODAY IS YOURS--- PARTICIPATE

The word Remember, naturally has more meaning for the veterans, but the veteran population is dwindling rapidly and with it the true meaning of Remembrance. The words "Today is yours" are directed to the majority of our population, those who have not experienced war. Canadian students of today have enjoyed the longest period of peace of any students in a century. It is obvious that the progress made over the past 30 years has been significant. The World War II generation has much to be proud of in this respect but it is now at a point where its major role is diminishing. TODAY belongs to the new generation.

The word PARTICIPATE is a call to the new generation to get involved in the Legion and particularly in remembrance. Time gradually erodes the concept of Remembrance to many, but it must not be allowed to phase out through lack of participation.

The heritage of freedom and the highest form of citizenship displayed by veterans in time of war and in peace must be maintained.

How is it possible to expect young people to become emotional about something which to them is history written before they were born? True we cannot expect them to remember but we can ask them to think about it, to use the occasion to think of their responsibilities as Canadian citizens and to participate in the remembrance activities.

Remembrance Day is the logical time for all of us to look at ourselves as citizens, to evaluate what we, as Canadians have, and to appreciate our inheritance. Citizenship and understanding are what remembrance can be all about.

The Poppy, the flower of Remembrance, is a flower of peace and today represents the hope for the future.

At Poppy Campaign time we are enlisting the help of our young people to distribute poppies, we want to help them to understand the concept of remembrance. Today is Theirs and they are invited to participate.

Poppy Day this year will be Saturday, November 1st. The Poppy is the emblem of sacrifice, the supreme price paid by so many of our young men in two world wars, and the wounds and disabilities suffered by many more who, with widows and dependents are cared for by the monies raised in the Poppy Campaign.

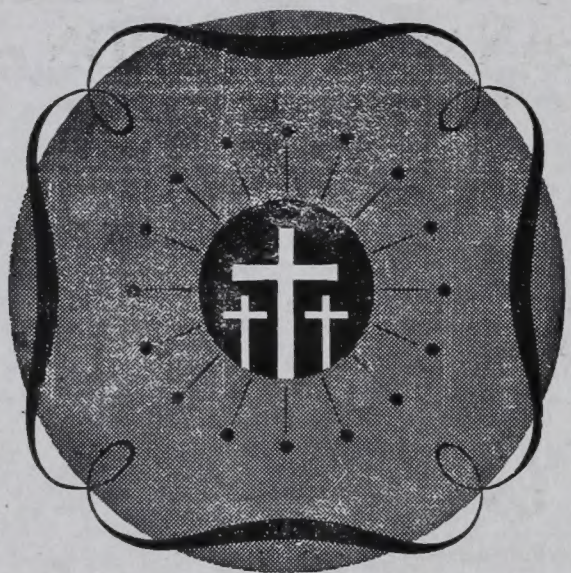

During the next few days the campaign will be getting under way and members of the Legion will be calling upon our local businesses to purchase wreaths to be displayed in their establishments. Please welcome these men when they call upon you, remember they did not let you down when our freedom was threatened.

Riding MP tells commission

Reasons for Victoria - Haliburton counties traditional ties

"There are real and valid reasons for the traditional union of Victoria and Haliburton counties and, in my opinion, they are still relevant today." So stated Victoria-Haliburton Riding MP William Scott when he made a presentation to the Federal Electoral Boundaries Commission for Ontario at Belleville on Tuesday.

"From the new proposals" Mr. Scott went on to say, "It would appear that the commission has ignored the traditional and historic ties between various sections of the present riding of Victoria-Haliburton."

"While some areas are relatively newcomers to the riding, the counties of Victoria and Haliburton in particular have existed as an electoral district for many years. There are real and valid reasons for this traditional union, and in my opinion, they are still relevant today."

Pointing out that while Victoria is a county in its own right, Mr. Scott reminded the commission Haliburton is a 'provisional county', "and as such it shares with and is largely dependant on Victoria County in respect to many agencies and services. I am sure that this aspect will be further developed by others making representations here today."

"Many individuals have approached me and asked why such drastic changes have been proposed in respect to the traditional riding of Victoria-Haliburton. In all honesty, I must admit that I have not been able to answer that question. I know, however, that there is a fear that the traditional representation that these persons have known in the past is being taken away."

"In a variable democracy" the federal member went on to say, "change is expected and accepted, but beyond this there is also the need for stability. In these days of constant change, in my opinion it is unwise to make more changes than are absolutely necessary. The proposed riding of Victoria-Simcoe is a growth area, and as such it is almost certain that the boundaries will again be greatly adjusted after the next census."

"I submit that it would be in the best interest of the residents of this region if we were to now look ahead and adjust our thinking to anticipate the future development of the region, many individuals have expressed to me the belief that the commission is relegating the rural regions of this province to a secondary role. Let us not run the risk of viewing rural residents as 'second class citizens.' There is this fear, however, that in making the new proposals, the commission began with Toronto and the 'Golden Horseshoe' and drew new boundaries basically in respect to areas of population alone."

"It is my belief, and as the guidelines allow, that community and diversity of interest should be given greater consideration, as has been mentioned. Victoria and Haliburton have many ties and much in common. Community of interest and a shared way of life have intertwined these regions in the past, and gives a common bond in the present."

"In the past the waterways and railroads linked the north to the south, and at present the highways do the same. Most Haliburton residents travel to the south, as Lindsay is their major center. This shared bond is also exemplified in the media in respect to radio and newspapers. Over the past century there have grown from these bonds a variety of social, economic, religious and political organizations transcending the county boundary. It is my belief that any organization to be sound and healthy, needs to have a community of interest among its members. This has and does exist in respect to Victoria-Haliburton. This is also true in reference to political parties which exist as a result of the bonds at the 'grass roots' level between its members in various regions."

"Haliburton has no real link with the area to her north, and thus I feel that the proposal to join her with Parry Sound-Muskoka is in error. In years past there have been reasons for this fact, even in a physical sense. Basically there are few routes of communication due to the terrain and the mass of unsettled crown land which separates the regions. Even the watershed impeded inter-relations in years past."

"There is also a very real fear that the proposed riding of Parry Sound-Muskoka would be much too large for an individual member to adequately represent all constituents, regardless of where he resided in the region. The people of Haliburton would feel insulated and left out of the mainstream, as they have little in common with the Parry Sound-Muskoka district. There is much in common between the Haliburton region and the highlands of North Hastings, spheres of interest are evident in respect to forestry, industry, highway systems and geographical considerations. The Cardiff area of Haliburton and the Apsley region of the present riding of Victoria - Haliburton can rightly be seen as largely oriented towards Bancroft. A similar case can be made for the twelve northern townships of Hastings surrounding Bancroft. Those in the north gravitate to the south and those around Bancroft and to the immediate south gravitate to the north. Thus there is a shared community of interest between these regions and Haliburton County."

"To the south it can be noted that the six northern townships of Peterborough County, presently in Victoria - Haliburton, do rightly belong there as they do, to a large extent, gravitate towards Lindsay and Victoria County."

"On the other hand, some areas proposed for the new riding of Victoria-Simcoe have little in common with Victoria County. Once again bonds of shared interest and diversity of interest are involved. Georgina Township could be seen to have more in common with Simcoe-South as they are both oriented towards Lake Simcoe and Barrie. Uxbridge could be seen as more logically drawn to Markham-Pickering and East Gwillimbury as drawn to York-Newmarket, due to the Toronto and Oshawa-Whitby pull."

"The communities and diversities of interest as outlined should not be ignored. I sincerely feel that in order to conform to the population criteria and yet still respect the traditional boundaries and areas of shared interest, certain alternate proposals can be made. Thus I offer the following proposals, which I believe will offer the best and most equitable solution."

1. Maintain the present riding of Victoria-Haliburton, (Victoria, Haliburton, the six northern townships of Hastings, the six northern townships of Peterborough, and Mara, Rama and Brock of Ontario County) but with the following alterations.

a) Remove Rama and Mara and add them to Simcoe North.

b) Add six additional townships and the village of Bancroft.

c) Add Manvers Township which is presently in the County of Victoria and the Township of Cavan as these areas gravitate to Lindsay.

This would result in the following population figures - Victoria 60,996 (Haliburton), less 4,171 (Rama and Mara) plus 6,051 (Bancroft, Faraday, Wollaston, Mayo, Cashel, Limerick and Dungan) plus 2,399 (Manvers) plus 2,830 (Cavan), for a total of 68,105.

2. Remove Haliburton from Parry Sound-Muskoka. 72,148 less 9,081 for a total of 63,067.

3. Remove the six northern townships of Peterborough and the twelve northern townships of Hastings from Hastings-Frontenac, but add Pittsburg to produce the following population - 69,189, less 11,591 plus 9,497 for a total of 67,095.

4. Remove Pittsburg from Leeds to produce a total of 66,523 (76,020 less 9,497).

5. Add Georgina to Simcoe-South for a total of 86,241 (71,282 plus 14,959).

6. Add East Gwillimbury to York-Newmarket for a total of 85,560 (76,201 plus 9,359).

7. Add Uxbridge to Markham-Pickering for a total of 86,703 (79,758 plus 6,945).

"While admittedly these are major changes to your proposals, from my conversations with residents in all areas, it is my firm belief that this brief expresses the desire of residents in the entire area. In keeping with the true spirit of democracy I trust that these thoughts will be given serious consideration. I am sure that it will also be borne out by others that the electorate is becoming very confused and deeply concerned with constant changes at all levels, and are beginning to question the entire system. Thus, regardless of political persuasion, I beg your commission to take into consideration the traditional communities of interest."

Minden Meeting to mark International Women's Year

About fifty Minden area women gathered at the Parish Hall, Oct. 22, to mark International Women's Year 1975. The evening was sponsored by the Women's Institute, and was a subtle blend of fact and fantasy put together by a committee made up of Alice Todd, Nellie MacMinn, Aileen Bleers and Jeanne Sears.

"Portraits of Famous Women-Past and Present" was received with much laughter as the audience recognized friends taking the parts. Alice Todd bore a startling resemblance to Queen Victoria, and Mary Pickford was demurely played by Thelma Ewing, Irene Moore, in authentic Indian costume represented Pauline Johnson. Frieda Hulbig as Florence Nightingale and Rene Burnes as Madame Curie were quite believable, and Nellie MacMinn took the part of Helen Keller with quiet assurance. Pauline McGibbon smiled graciously through Joyce Hewitt and Audrey Walker showed the audience the broad smile of Judy LaMarsh. Dr. Agnes Jamieson, as herself, gave a talk, sprinkled with her delightful humour, on her work as doctor and coroner in the Haliburton area.

Audrey Chamber, librarian at Archie Stouffer School, told the ladies to learn, above all, to be a human being. She, also spiced her remarks with a light sense of humour.

Two films were shown by Mary Packard of Haliburton County Library; one on the quality of family life when both parents work, and the other a light little animated fun film.

A tongue-in-cheek interview was conducted by Ms. Footloose of the Minden Regress. She got some answers from Mr. I.M.A. Chauvinist that left little doubt as to what he thought of women.

The programme ended with the singing of God Save the Queen; refreshments were served by Nellie MacMinn and her committee.

Official opening of the headquarters of the Haliburton County Public Library System

For the members of the Haliburton County Public Library Board last Sunday, October 26th, 1975 was more than just a special occasion it was a scene of a dream come true. This special day saw the opening and dedication of the Headquarters of the Haliburton County Public Library System at Haliburton.

The opening of the new headquarters was not only the work of the present board but of many people in years gone by, who had worked so hard for the establishment of this system.

The crowd assembled for this occasion to hear remarks from Heather Gardiner, County Librarian, Bill Roedde, Director of Provincial Library Service, Barrie Robinson, Director of Lake Ontario Regional Library System, Glen Hodgson, MPP, Victoria-Haliburton 1963-1975, John Eakins, MPP Victoria Haliburton 1975, Reg Booth, Warden, Haliburton County, Murray Fearrey, Reeve, Dysart et al and Roy Brohm, Chairman of the Haliburton County Public Library Board.

John Eakins the new M.P.P. for Victoria-Haliburton was on hand for the official opening and thanks everyone for the invitation to be present on this occasion. He went on to congratulate all those who had worked so hard to bring this day about. He reminded everyone present of the many hours of hard work that must have gone on behind the scenes to complete this project. As the former Mayor of Lindsay, Mr. Eakins, stated that he was well aware of the problems connected with the expansion of a library. He told the library members that he was looking forward to working with them on their library problems. Photo by Dal Hubbert.

I have certainly been pleased and honoured to have been associated with the Haliburton County Library System from its beginning to its finish stated Glen Hodgson, former M.P.P. for Victoria-Haliburton while addressing the audience at the new library headquarters opening. Glen spoke very highly of Noel McNeil who in former years was a hard worker for the library system. He went on to say that Noel was a real spark plug who believed that books were a silent teacher. He saw the new county library system as a real avenue for people who like to read good books. Photo by Dal Hubbert.

The dedication was given by Rev. Trevor Denny, Rector of St. George's Anglican Church.

Following the ceremony refreshments were served and the people in attendance has an opportunity to view the new library facilities.

Since its establishment in 1965 our library system has expanded to include nine branches in the County's 1,486 square mile area. These Branches and the County Library Headquarters lend books, periodicals and pamphlet materials to 3,600 library members with an annual circulation of 60,000 books. Each borrower has access to the County's collection of 25,000 volumes and the collection and services offered through its membership in the Lake Ontario Regional Library System with resource collections in Peterborough, Kingston and Belleville.

Audio-visual services, a growing collection of local history materials and a books-by-mail service are all administered from the centrally located headquarters in Haliburton.

Reg Booth, Reeve of the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden and Warden of Haliburton County in his opening remarks said that he sincerely hopes that this is the beginning of progress in Library work in the county. He went on to say that Haliburton County has progressed because people have stood behind those who are doing things. He went on to congratulate Heather Gardiner and other dedicated people for their work in the Library system. Photo by Dal Hubbert.

She specially thanked all those who had travelled such a long distance to be present for this occasion. She mentioned the late Cathy Sisson, who had worked so hard for the Library cause. Deceptive business practices hurt everyone.

This is what Ontario is doing to protect you.

We have a new law in Ontario called the Business Practices Act. Its purpose is to prevent unfair business practices in sales to the public. Here's what the law does:

- it prohibits false, misleading or deceptive tactics in the sale of products and services.
- it prohibits too high prices, unfair contracts and high-pressure sales methods.
- helps people get their money back if a seller has taken unfair advantage of them.

The Province of Ontario wants you to get your money's worth when you buy. Expensive items such as cars and homes require a lot of thought, so the Government of Ontario has prepared some simple booklets that tell you what to watch out for when you buy, explaining the do's and don'ts about:

- "Buying a Car"
- "Buying Real Estate"
- "Buying a Condominium"
- "Getting a Mortgage"

You can also get a booklet called "Balance in the Marketplace — The Consumer's Guide to the Business Practices Act."

If you would like a copy of any of these booklets, or if you wish to report an unfair business practice, write now to:

During this period there were seven motor vehicle collisions investigated and 49 general occurrences investigated. There were eight break, enter and thefts reported, two persons charged with Liquor Control Act violations and two persons charged with impaired driving.

Too much food, drink or drugs can harm the system

When it comes to the care and feeding of the gastrointestinal tract, most people focus on the feeding and forget about the care.

And that, up to a point, is fine. The so-called GI tract, through which everything we eat or drink is carried, is a busy and efficient thoroughfare. Leading from the mouth through the pharynx, the oesophagus, the stomach, and on into the large and small intestine and then to the rectum, the GI tract not only transports what we eat - it transforms it. At various stages along the route ingested material is chemically treated, reorganized, stored, distributed or dispatched.

All of this movement and activity we take pretty much for granted. But, like any other transportation system, this one can get snarled up.

The main enemies of the GI tract are ASA (acetylsalicylic acid), alcohol, smoking, antibiotics and laxatives.

ASA, whether in tablet or seltzer form, can have a damaging effect on the tough lining of the stomach wall - the mucous membrane - making the stomach more vulnerable to acids involved in the digestive process. The result of all this will depend on the amount of aspirin taken, and, of course, on the person and the stomach involved. But it can mean heartburn, ulcers or even hemorrhage.

Alcohol has much the same effect on the stomach lining, but large and consistent doses of it can also affect the liver and the pancreas - both glands involved in the digestive process - and can also lead to pancreatitis and cirrhosis of the liver, difficult to treat (sometimes incurable) diseases. Alcohol has a third effect. It hampers the absorption of food as nutrient, thus depriving the body of the full value of what is eaten.

Smoking relaxes the valve between the stomach and the oesophagus, thus allowing acids to flow back from the stomach instead of moving along in the right direction. This condition, known as reflux oesophagitis, causes heartburn. Also, while smoking hasn't actually been shown to cause ulcers, it does prevent existing ones from healing properly.

Antibiotics can injure the GI tract in a number of ways, such as by causing inflammation of the colon - colitis. While these "wonder drugs" obviously serve a useful purpose, they shouldn't be used for trivial complaints.

Finally, people who don't get enough roughage in their diet resort to laxatives, and these, in their harsher forms, tend to flog the life out of the large bowel. This creates a vicious circle in which the bowel isn't elastic enough to do its job, and so more laxatives are needed.

The enemies of the GI tract are mostly quite easy to deal with; their assets have to be weighed against their liabilities. Moderation is where care of the GI tract begins.

Denture therapists licensed to serve the general public

As a profession, denture therapists have a problem. People aren't too sure what they do.

Most of us can say with reasonable assurance what occupational therapists or physiotherapists do... but ask someone to define the work of denture therapists and you're likely to get a vague answer, or none at all.

And that's understandable since the law governing the precise role of Ontario's 320 denture therapists (a law with teeth in it, you might say) was only proclaimed at the beginning of 1975.

A series of happenings led up to that law. Several years ago certain dental technicians began to feel that they could get on with the business of making dentures without the supervision of a dentist. Some of them opened offices and dealt directly with the public, and, as a result, a few were prosecuted for practising dentistry without a license.

In 1972, a bill was brought into effect that permitted denture therapists licensed by the province to practise their craft without direct supervision. But in the same year the bill was withdrawn and replaced with a new one that made supervision by a dentist mandatory.

Denture therapists were understandably unhappy about this and made their feelings known to the government.

In 1974, a new bill provided that the denture therapists could make complete dentures - but not partial ones - without the supervision of a dentist. The bill was given final reading in June, 1974, and became the law of the province in January 1975.

So the situation now is that denture therapists can deal directly with the public in the manufacture and sale of complete sets of dentures.

They are licensed and regulated in exactly the same way as other health care professionals.

This regulation is performed by the new Governing Board of Denture Therapists, a body appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council and consisting of six denture therapists and three lay people. The Board sets examinations and is responsible for registration, licensing and complaints.

If it's dentist care you're after, go to your dentist. If you need a complete set of dentures, you have the choice of either a dentist or denture therapists. It's a thought to chew on, anyway.

Haliburton Chamber of Commerce
news

The New Haliburton Highlands "Lure" is almost ready to go to press for 1976. The new improved book will have twelve additional pages to accomodate our increased membership and the many new advertisers. It will be possible for members to place two lines of advertising along with their free listing in addition to the regular advertising. We are presently attempting to contact all members who may be interested in availing themselves of this service - but if we haven't reached you - call us to-day. This year there will be 30,000 books printed and in addition to distribution through Travel Centres they will also be mailed to all cottagers in the county.

Mark November 22nd on your calendar right now. That's the date of the "Chamber of Commerce Grey Cup Ball." The festivities are to be held at Deer Lodge, with music provided by Summer Fantasy. Advance tickets will be available shortly through local merchants, or at the Chamber office. Watch this paper for details shortly, but in the meantime keep that date open. We know you wouldn't want to miss it.

New memberships are still rolling in to the Chamber of Commerce, and among them this week we are pleased to welcome a number of new people to our business community. Marj and Jim Howard have just purchased Silver Valley Store located about half way between West Guilford and Kennisis Lake. They provide groceries, a snack bar, and snowmobile service and repairs. At the centre at Kennisis Lake we met John and Sylvia Bittman who have just purchased the Highland Park Snack Bar. This is good news for snowmobilers who like to stop for some hot refreshments on those evening runs. Both of these locations will be open all winter in the evening.

Over at Ingoldsby there is a new general store called "The Sergeant's Mrs." which was recently opened by Gus and Brigitte Dempsey. In Minden we welcome all the new tenants of the Minden Country Mall into the Chamber - Joe Shapiro of Jadek Sports, Eileen Shapiro of Shoe and Leather, and Erika and Anne Franke of Westfalia Delicatessen. Also in Minden we welcome Gary Anderson who is the new proprietor of Minto Marine.

On Lake Kashagawigamog we met Wanda and Leon Tataara who are very busy completely renovating Bonnie View Inn. They are doing a beautiful job there and expect to have Bonnie View back in operation this coming season.

A sincere welcome to all these people and we wish them much success in Haliburton.

Amazon Hospital Foundation

Representatives visit Haliburton area

Recently, Mrs. Mary Poaps, Executive Director of the Amazonian Hospital Foundation, spent nearly three days in Haliburton County talking with students and teachers at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, the public schools of Minden and Haliburton, and the Rotarians of Haliburton Village. Those who had the opportunity of meeting Mrs. Poaps, examining her artifacts (brought from the Amazonian jungle), and viewing the film of the jungle, its people and the work of the Hospital Amazonico, were tremendously enlightened and impressed.

It was difficult to conceive that only 11 hours (flying time) from Haliburton, many thousands of our fellow-humans are experiencing incredible poverty, disease, and ignorance. Most of us were not aware that close to us in our "global village" are many persons with a life expectancy of 33 years, that motherhood maturity begins at 11 years of age, and only two out of ten children survive to the age of 12 years. Infant mortality is as high as 60%, where no medical help is available. Many villages that ask help from the hospital Amazonico have to be turned down because of its present limited staff and facilities.

The Hospital Amazonico is located deep in the interior of Peru, 450 air miles north east of the city of Lima, in the Amazon jungle, on the Ucayali River. It is here, as a symbol of hope for many thousands of Indians and Mestizos. The hospital is dedicated to giving medical aid completely free to Indians and the poor living along the river. Mothers arrive with their children - by dug-out canoes -- sometimes too late. Most children in this area suffer from intestinal parasites, malnutrition and tuberculosis.

The hospital was started in 1960, and is supported by Canadian and European foundations. Some one hundred patients are presently at the hospital, and each day one to two hundred or more out-patients wait for treatment at the front of the hospital.

This hospital has to provide its own food; so, there is a 350 head herd of cattle - not only to provide milk and meat for the hospital but also to train natives in animal husbandry. Twenty young natives are given agricultural training each year in order to establish small dairy farms in their own villages. On their return to their villages, they take animals with them as a gift from the hospital. This is the way to combat malnutrition and assure better food. It is an important part of the self help programme of the total hospital project.

The hospital, its River Health programme, and self-help projects, can continue to bring healing and hope to the jungle population of Peru only if necessary funds can be raised through friends in better situated areas of the world. First-aid stations, closer to remote villages are needed, as well as better equipment for radio communication. What has been done thus far is only a modest beginning in waging the war against poverty, ignorance and disease in the Amazon Region. The Peruvian and other governments are trying to change the situation for the better, but available resources are not enough. Your support is also needed. Contributions can be sent to:

The Amazonian Hospital Foundation,
P.O. Box 252,
Etobicoke, Ontario.

Tax deductible receipts will be issued.

Dr. Robert B. McClure, former lay moderator of the United Church of Canada, is leaving for the Hospital on November 19. He is volunteering his services for a two year period as Director of the Hospital Amazonico and the River Health Programmes connected with the Amazon project. His passage to the hospital has been paid by the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Foster Child Fund through the Amazonian Hospital Foundation in Canada. This hospital is non-denominational and non-sectarian.

A friend of the hospital recently described the purpose behind this dedicated programme in the following way: "We have to take care of our world and never forget that in our world live human beings who can be divided into two groups, the healthy ones and the ones not yet healthy; the well fed ones and those not yet well fed; the accepted ones and those not yet accepted. But we are all human beings and here to help each other."

These human beings need your help.

If you wish to express a special concern for the Amazonian Hospital Foundation, and wish to be more involved with it, please contact Mrs. Poaps directly (address above) or Mr. Gerry Feltham, R.R.#1, Minden, Ontario.

Gems of Truth

TRUE CUSTODIANS
When Count Nobel, the great Swedish scientist invented a new and powerful explosive, he desired to name it so that its tremendous force would be exemplified. So he took the Greek word "dunamis" and changed it to "dynamite", thus adding a new word to the vocabularies of the world. The Count was very proud of his great discovery and rightly so! It could be harnessed for good or for destruction, and its capability for devastation was soon recognized among nations. The potential for good, however, was also acclaimed in this great power. Industry, mining, engineering and even farmers use it today. Count Nobel was never reluctant to talk about his product, he was thrilled beyond measure with the invention of his "power" tool. That same word by which Paul uses in Romans 1:16 to describe the "true Gospel". Thus he wrote "I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, for it is the "power of God" unto salvation to every one that believeth". The Gospel of Jesus Christ is a unique thing, it is "dynamite" indeed! Handled properly, its great power and force can be used to the benefit of the individual, "mishandled" it can destroy him eternally. The Gospel can be used to uproot the strongholds of Satan and put his cohorts to rout, or it can be used to build up the Saint and provide him with Eternal advantages. The one who rejects Christ is destroyed and slain by the Gospel he spurned, while the one who receives Jesus is lifted to Heaven and peace by its great and limitless power. In the name of all that is sensible, why should any person be ashamed of such a possession as this? That it is possible to do so, is quite evident or Paul would not have mentioned it. Perhaps we should remember that he was writing to the Church at Rome, a humble group, who were despised by the high and noble of that proud and sinful society among whom they lived. Paul was a fugitive from the Roman law and shortly to be slain by a miscarriage of Roman justice, similar to Jesus own fate a short time before. Had Paul chosen to return to Judaism and its fold, he could have escaped the dark future that lay before him. But he gladly wore his handcuffs as jewelled bracelets, looked on his guards as comrades, and boasted that he was "the prisoner of the Lord Jesus".

The name of that "prisoner" lives on, while all the names of the oppressors have long since been erased. He was not "ashamed of the power" that had saved him from a sinful life and his writings continue to help and establish believing hearts in the ways of truth. Today, God's true children live in an age when true Christianity is despised by the "noble and mighty" of the world. Mere "professors" think a great deal more of a bridge party than they do of a prayer meeting, and they smile in a superior and intolerant manner at the "religious fanatics" who proclaim the Gospel and live the separated life. Shall we let their scorn silence us, or shall we with united testimony proclaim the Gospel that has "dynamite"?

Since it takes more than human force to blow a sinner loose from his sins, shall we be ashamed of the power that cleansed Paul and set him free? Nay, rather let us proclaim Christ, "the power unto salvation" and boldly take our place as God's custodians of that "message of Power."

Maple Lake news

Mr. Bob Barnett who is attending the University of New Brunswick at Fredericton, returned to his home for Thanksgiving weekend. Friends from near and far attended the Annual Turkey Dinner at St. Peter's Church on Saturday, Oct. 11th. As usual this was a most successful event for the A.C.W. who worked so hard to everyone's delight. The John Barclay family continue to make good progress with their new 4-seasons home on the North Shore Road. This is a fine looking home in a beautiful setting and a real welcome addition to our growing community. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Barnett returned from a trip to San Francisco. Don and Jessie were celebrating their 35th Wedding Anniversary. On one leg of their flight from San Francisco to Los Angeles, Jessie thought she heard a familiar voice in the seat immediately behind theirs. Sure enough, there was Bing Crosby as large as life and twice as natural. Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis who will be leaving on a trip to Paris, France in early November. Harry was one of nearly a hundred associates with Thos. N. Shea, Realtors who qualified for this all expense paid trip under a company sponsored incentive program. Harry and Irene will join a group of over 200 on a non-stop flight from Malton to Paris. Sounds like fun. Fred and Jessie Prentice have started their annual trek to Florida for the winter. Bob Davis telephoned home from Labrador City last week to report the end of another adventure through the Arctic by canoe. Bob is looking forward to home and friends and hopes to be with us before Christmas.

Mrs. Anne Dawson, Mrs. Gert Dawson, Miss Dora Dawson attended a birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis to mark the 77th birthday of Mrs. Berta Dawson who lived all her life in Stanhope Township and is now a resident at Hyland Crest in Minden. Hear about the chap who told the judge he blamed Betty Cocker's Crock Book for all his drinking problems?

Indian legend barks up wrong tree

by Wayne Mutton

Ancient Indian legend probably says it's the work of the Great Manitou. Today, thousands of us still mistakenly believe the reason is frost. But the real reason the leaves of hardwood trees become violently colorful about this time of year is slightly more complicated, according to the foresters.

Up until the beginning of the fall season our broad-leaved or deciduous trees are virtually "programmed" to grow. Suddenly, because of moisture levels, temperature, amounts of energy stored in the roots, genetics and a dozen other influences, that growing period begins to slacken. All over the tree, the systems begin to shut down in preparation for the dormant period.

In the leaves, the production of green chlorophyll stops and the remaining chlorophyll is destroyed by sunlight. Until now the green chlorophyll pigment has been dominant, blocking out all others and giving the leaves their green color. Now other pigments present in the leaves begin to show their true colors.

Two of the other pigments are called "carotinoids". One is orange and is called "carotin" after the carrot in which it is the main coloring agent. The other carotinoid pigment - a yellow - is something called "xanthophyll".

But there's also another group of pigments, the "anthocyanins" the reds and purples which form in the cell sap and contrast sharply with the oranges and yellows. The reds and purples may be present throughout the growing season, for example in beets, red cabbage, purple spanish onions and egg plant, or they may be produced in autumn as in ripening apples, plums or grapes.

The quicker chlorophyll production diminishes, the more obvious becomes the gaudy influence of the other pigments, until that grand, but brief moment arrives just before the falling-off period, when the hardwoods on the landscape seem to be on fire with golds, scarlets, yellows and purples.

At the peak in their color, another change in the leaves occurs. Between the stem of the leaf and the branch is a layer of cells - the separation layer - which breaks down gradually causing the leaf to eventually break off and fall.

Bright days and cool nights - about 5 degrees Celsius - produce the most colorful autumns and the most dramatic cascades of falling leaves, not frost. Early frosts can actually ruin the show. They kill the leaves before the separation layer develops, turning them a dull brown and causing them to cling to the tree well into the winter.

The first trees to change leaf color are usually the ashes and hickories, followed by the maples. Halfway through the seasonal change, the elms and birches join the group, and the last to abandon their green are usually the poplars and oaks. (from Natural Resources newsfeature, Eastern Region).

Outlook bleak for deer hunters

by John Powers

Deer season on most of the eastern and central Ontario range opens Monday, Nov. 3. There are a number of exceptions - the most notable being Manitoulin Island (Nov. 17-21) and the Bruce Peninsula (Nov. 10-13).

Last year's hunter success rate was a meager 15.8 per cent, down nearly three points from 1973. And according to deer biologist John Ludwig, the 1975 prospects are anything but bright.

He estimates there are approximately 200,000 whitetails in Ontario. While that may sound like a lot, it really isn't. Relatively tiny Pennsylvania's deer population is triple Ontario's. In 1974, twice as many whitetails were killed by cars in that state as were harvested by Ontario hunters.

So why are our herds dwindling? Are they being over-hunted? Can we blame the wolves?

Ludwig says "not. 'The decline of our deer can be attributed to the gradual changes which have occurred in the habitat. Through select cutting and in some cases, no timbering at all, the range has deteriorated."

He points out that the aspen have vanished from much of the hunting territory and have been replaced by hardwood and fir. A lot of former clearings are now plugged with pines.

Ludwig says: "We have effectively cut the winter mortality rate through our deer yard work but the spring, summer and fall range is in bad shape."

The lush growth which springs up on the heels of forest fires is perfect game habitat. Although Ludwig didn't say so, there's no doubt that today's efficient fire fighting techniques are, from the deer's standpoint, a blackguard disguised as a knight in shining armour.

Those who intend to hunt whitetails next month, but as yet haven't figured out where to go, have a problem.

For what it's worth Ontario's hot corner is the Fort Frances district. In 1974, some 2,377 resident hunters bagged 1,059 deer for a very fat 44.6 per cent rate of success. Next best was the Kenora district which boasted 39.4 per cent.

Closer to home, Manitoulin Island and the Loring district led the list at this end of the province.

Of the 84,000 nimrods who took to the woods last year, almost half hunted the Algonquin Region, which is comprised of the districts of Bancroft, Bracebridge, Minden, Pembroke, Parry Sound and the townships of Bruton and Clyde, at the south end of Algonquin Park.

The overall success rate for the region was 12.9 per cent. The 17.8 Parry Sound figure was the high and Algonquin Park was a distant last. In that wildlife desert, only 101 of 1,497 hunters dined on venison.

Throughout the entire region, the hunter density was between three and four per square mile, compared with 0.62 in the Fort Frances area.

Good advice for those who haven't as yet formulated their hunting plans is "think small". Make very short drives, work such overlooked corners as bits of road-bordered bush and tiny points of land on lakeshores and be sure to sit pat for a few hours after daybreak.

Finally, steer clear of the territory hunted by established camps, many of which have been in existence for over half a century.

Empty plastic coated milk cartons of various sizes make excellent containers for small tools, parts and garden implements. They're lightweight, unbreakable and waterproof. Two or four cartons taped with masking tape make handy divided containers. A sturdy rope, knotted on the inside, makes a convenient handle.

Early detection of VD makes treatment possible

Like cancer, venereal disease isn't one disease but several.

In all its forms, VD is acquired the same way - by sexual contact - but syphilis and gonorrhea, the two most common versions of the disease, are entirely different in their effects.

The incidence of syphilis is about one-tenth that of gonorrhea. Unlike gonorrhea, it's not confined to the genital area, but can, in its advanced stages, wreak havoc with such organs as the heart, the brain and the liver - and is frequently fatal as a result.

Throughout history many famous people have contracted syphilis: Keats, Oscar Wilde, Jonathan Swift, Napoleon, Beethoven, Henry VIII, and, predictably, Casanova, among them.

Today, we have the means to treat syphilis - principally penicillin and tetracycline - but the problem isn't so much a matter of treatment as of detection. It's not easy to tell if you've got syphilis, and many cases of the disease are discovered during routine blood testing.

Dr. Ralph Persad, a medical consultant with the Ontario Ministry of Health, says that every case of early syphilis is a potential epidemic. In fact, Dr. Persad says, the disease is more serious from the standpoint of potential complications than typhoid. There were 421 reported cases of syphilis in Ontario in 1958; 2,162 in 1974.

Syphilis, he explains, is caused by a corkscrew-shaped organism, called a spirochete, which enters the bloodstream and has an incubation period of from nine to 90 days following intercourse with an infected person.

Primary syphilis often starts as a pimple or sore (a chancre) at the point where the germ enters the body, but, says Dr. Persad, in about 40 per cent of syphilis cases there's no sore - so it's possible to have early syphilis without knowing it.

The secondary stage includes such symptoms as transient rashes, sore throat and general malaise. It occurs anywhere from six months to two years after the initial infection. Third stage syphilis is when the spirochetes really go to work over a period of 10 to 15 years in the untreated person - and this is when they can fatally damage the body's vital organs.

The important thing to remember, says Dr. Persad, is that one-third of syphilis cases heal spontaneously; one-third have no serious effects, and the other third can lead to chronic disease and even death. Trouble is, once you've contracted the disease, you don't know which of the three categories you're going to be in.

Therefore, it's vital to detect syphilis early - not only for your own protection, but also for that of your children, since the disease can be passed on to the next generation.

If you think you may have contracted syphilis don't be afraid to seek out medical help. A specific blood test is the only way of finding out - and early treatment is the best approach.

The Ontario Ministry of Health's pamphlet, VD - Sexually Transmitted Diseases, provides facts and information about syphilis.

This pamphlet is available in government or physician's offices, or you can get it by writing to the Health Resource Centre, Communications Branch, Ministry of Health, Hepburn Block, Queen's Park, Toronto, Ontario M7A 1S2.
